Global Health Lecture Series

Wednesday, September 10

ACB 110

Noon

featuring
Joel Dickens, MD
Assistant Professor, OB/GYN

Reflections from Four Years in West Africa

Joel Dickens, MD trained in Pediatrics at Vanderbilt University and was in private practice for four years in West Texas. Following that time, he trained in OB/GYN at UTMB in Galveston and was in private practice for 7 years in West Texas. He then relocated to West Africa and spent four years at Baptist Medical Center in Nalerigu, located in northern Ghana. He joined TTUHSC (Amarillo) in February 2013.

During this presentation, Dr. Dickens will describe his experience practicing medicine for four years in Nalerigu, Ghana, an extremely impoverished and underserved area. He will also discuss some of the common maternal complications and disease processes in northern Ghana, including typhoid fever, malaria, and tuberculosis.
