Combating Domestic Minor Sex Trafficking in the South Plains Region

Wednesday, October 30, 2013

ABC 120, 12:00 noon

This presentation will address the dangers of domestic minor sex trafficking in the South Plains and the coordinated community response to combat this very real issue. Participants will learn to identify red flags and recognize common tactics and manipulation used by traffickers.

Leslie Timmons has served as the Community Educator/Volunteer Coordinator for the Lubbock Rape Crisis Center dba Voice of Hope for four years. Leslie received her Bachelor of Science in Family and Consumer Sciences from Texas State University. She has been instrumental in developing and implementing sexual assault primary prevention programs in Lubbock and the surrounding rural communities that comprise Voice of Hope's 9,700 square mile service area. Leslie is also charged with the task of providing community education on the issue of domestic minor sex trafficking. Leslie is forever an advocate to end rape and the sexual exploitation of children.

Stacy Lambright, MEd, LPC has served as the Sexual Assault Therapeutic Counselor for the Lubbock Rape Crisis Center dba Voice of Hope for three years. Stacy received her Bachelor of Arts in Psychology from Lubbock Christian University and her Master of Education from Texas Tech University. Stacy is a Licensed Professional Counselor. Prior to joining the Voice of Hope staff, Stacy spent eight years working with at-risk youth and their families. Stacy was instrumental in researching, constructing, and analyzing the data from the survey tool disseminated by the Community Assessment Committee. Stacy is passionate about building a therapeutic program to address the issue of domestic minor sex trafficking that will guide victimized children towards safe, healthy, and productive lives.

Free lunch provided to the first 40 attendees!
